- Q5, 30% (33) happy or extremely would be happy about having horse carriages banned from James Bay, 51% (56) unhappy or extremely discontent

Authors Thoughts

The results from Question 4 really puzzle me – why would such a large number of people be 'happy' or 'extremely happy' about finding horse manure in the streets? Due to the extreme slant in the Day 2 results, I am suspicious of 'coaching' from carriage companies, encouraging a number of people to participate and to respond positively to any question relating to the carriages. Of course, this may be unfounded, and people simply enjoy horse manure.
